

PATRICK H. KELLEY OF MICHIGAN DEAD

Former Congressman, Expert on Naval Affairs, Passes Away at Washington

Washington, Sept. 11—(A.P.) Former Representative Patrick H. Kelley of Michigan died here early today after a prolonged illness.

A Republican leader of the House from the 6th Michigan district for five terms, 1921-23, Mr Kelley, who was 58, was most prominently identified with naval matters, serving as chairman of the naval subcommittee of the House appropriations committee. In this capacity he helped frame several naval bills. During his last term he engaged in a long but unsuccessful fight against the provision in the 1923 naval bill to increase the navy's enlisted strength from 67,000 to 86,000, which had the indorsement of President Harding.

Born in Cass county, Michigan, October 7, 1867, he graduated from the University of Michigan in 1900 and began the practice of law at Lansing the same year. He was a member of the Michigan state board of education, state superintendent of public instruction and lieutenant-governor of the state from 1907-11. He made his home at Lansing.
